DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

The listing of references in the specification is not a proper information disclosure statement. 37 CFR 1.98(b) requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office, and MPEP § 609.04(a) states, "the list may not be incorporated into the specification but must be submitted in a separate paper." Therefore, unless the references have been cited by the examiner on form PTO-892, they have not been considered.

Drawings

New corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in this application because the examiner is unable to determine the correct configuration of the device ~~device~~ due to improper exploded views. Applicant is advised to employ the services of a competent patent draftsman outside the Office, as the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office no longer prepares new drawings. The corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The requirement for corrected drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: the specification is replete with errors. Some examples include: page 7, line 17 'may be slide,' line 18 'shelves to again,' and page 8, line 10 'a pair of revolving slide.'

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: the claim is replete with the errors. Some examples include: lines 4, 7, and 10 'with at list one,' line 2 'or more upright support', and line 3 'rail rails.' In order to expedite the prosecution of this case the examiner has read the error as 'with at least one'. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Where applicant acts as his or her own lexicographer to specifically define a term of a claim contrary to its ordinary meaning, the written description must clearly redefine the claim term and set forth the uncommon definition so as to put one reasonably skilled in the art on notice that the applicant intended to so redefine that claim term. Process Control Corp. v. HydReclaim Corp., 190 F.3d 1350, 1357, 52 USPQ2d 1029, 1033 (Fed. Cir. 1999). The term "in a clockwise or counterclockwise rotational manner" in claim 1 is used by the claim to mean either "a sliding linear motion" or in reference to the rotation of the rollers, while the accepted meaning is "to rotate around a central axis." The term is indefinite because the specification does not clearly redefine the term. In order to expedite the prosecution of the case the examiner has taken the reference to be referring to the rotation of the rollers.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fahey et al U.S. Pat. No. 4,216,866.

Fahey et al. discloses a revolving slide comprising a support rail constructed from two or more upright supports (22) and two or more horizontal support rails (32). A vertical slide mechanism with at least one roller member (74) mounted on support rail and adapted for vertical motion relative to support rail. A horizontal slide mechanism with at least one telescopic member (32) mounted on the vertical slide mechanism and adapted for horizontal motion relative to support rail. At least one shelf support mounted on the horizontal slide mechanism (12) (the device Fahey et al. is fully capable of performing the function as set forth in claim 1, see Figures 1, 3, 7, 14, and 15).

Conclusion

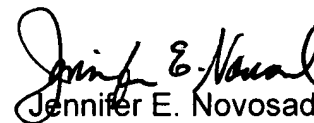

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Duane, U.S. Pat. No. 5,950,846 discloses a revolving slide.
